

Toilet Step Stool

The toilet step stool (TSS) is designed to offer more stability and a greater sense of security for children when toileting. The TSS is intended to support independent toileting by bringing children closer to the toilet seat and providing handles to help balance.

In April 2019, the Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) granted CanAssist funding to develop solutions to help children across the province with challenges related to independent toileting. Commercially available step stools did not effectively address this need, therefore, the TSS was designed and created in consultation with stakeholders throughout the province.

Key Features of the TSS

Baby Bjorn Toilet Seat

Children often benefit from a toilet seat that accommodates their smaller size. Toilet seat adaptations support balance, comfort, and stability when seated. Some children may prefer to use the TSS itself without a toilet seat adaptation.

Included with the TSS is a Baby Bjorn Toilet Seat. This toilet seat was carefully selected by conducting an online survey, consulting with child care programs, and by testing it in 50 child care centers and gathering their feedback.
